NO ARMY

Transmittal of United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

Section 1.—SHORT TITLE, PURPOSE, AND DEFINITIONS

Section 1. This Act may be cited as the "Arms Control and Disarmament Act".

Section 2. An ultimate goal of the United States is a world which is free from the scourge of war and the dangers and burden of armaments, in which the use of force has been substituted by the rule of law, and in which international adjustments to a changing world are achieved through peaceful means. It is the purpose of this Act to provide an important procedural framework for achieving such a goal by working with all nations in the world, and to provide for the control and reduction of armaments looking toward ultimate world disarmament.

Section 3. An ultimate goal of the United States is a world which is free from the scourge of war and the dangers and burden of armaments, in which the use of force has been substituted by the rule of law, and in which international adjustments to a changing world are achieved through peaceful means. It is the purpose of this Act to provide an important procedural framework for achieving such a goal by working with all nations in the world, and to provide for the control and reduction of armaments looking toward ultimate world disarmament.

Section 4. An ultimate goal of the United States is a world which is free from the scourge of war and the dangers and burden of armaments, in which the use of force has been substituted by the rule of law, and in which international adjustments to a changing world are achieved through peaceful means.
